BRYAN'S PLANK ON PROFITEERS TO BE OFFERED

Would Pledge Democratic Party to Drive Out Greedy and Keep Them Out

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—State commissions, similar to the federal trade commission, to prevent profiteering, are a feature of a plank on profiteering proposed by William J. Bryan.

It is as follows:
"The Democratic party pledges the nation to rid it of the profiteer and to close the door against his return. It will endeavor to eliminate all unnecessary additions to the encouragement of organizations among producers that will bring those who sell and those who use nearer together. It will enact and enforce laws that will effectively prevent excessive charges by such middlemen as are necessary. To this end it will demand legislation subjecting to the penalties of the criminal law all corporate officers and employees who give or carry out instructions that result in extortion. It will make it unlawful for anyone engaged in interstate commerce to make the sale of one article dependent upon the purchase of another article and it will request such corporations to disclose to customers the difference between cost price and selling price or limit the profit that can be legally charged as the rate of interest is now limited. It will also endeavor to create in the several states trade commissions with powers as ample as those of the federal trade commission and to enact laws authorizing each local community to create, if needed, similar commissions for the investigation of local charges of profiteering."

Another plank dealing with the treaty of Versailles and the league of nations is to be made public tomorrow by Mr. Bryan.

COOLIDGE GIVES ADDRESS BEFORE VERMONT CLASS

Americans Urged to Accept Larger Responsibilities in Solving World Problems

IMPOSSIBLE TO SHIFT PAYMENT OF DEBTS
New Standard of Value Set on Human Service Nominee Tells Students

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 28.—The American people were urged to accept the larger responsibilities of a world of greater economic and political freedom and to employ their moral force in solving the problems of the future, in an address by Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, Republican nominee for vice president, at the University of Vermont commencement today.

"The conflicts of the past six years," Governor Coolidge said, "have strengthened the determination of all America's people not as in the past to resist all aggression and support and defend her political institutions with whatever power may be necessary for their preservation and the maintenance of the larger liberties they bestow upon all her citizens."

Price of Victory
"It is absolutely impossible for the public to evade or shift the burden of meeting the cost of the war and paying the public debt. This is our part of the price of victory. Until this is met, a higher range of costs will be the price of freedom. There has been and still is in some cases a range of artificially high prices which has not been caused by, but has resulted in, profiteering. It is our duty to remedy for this and that is an increase of production."

New Birth of Freedom
"We have been preaching and enjoining a great crusade. Its purpose has been to destroy despotism, to secure more responsibility. If economically our citizens are to be no longer cheap they must be no longer without responsibilities."

How to Be Satisfied
"To some it has been disappointing, giving them unrest and dissatisfaction. If any expected to find satisfaction merely in an enlarged income they were disappointed. If economic satisfaction does not come from satiety or indulgence, it comes from achievement. Greater liberty does not mean less responsibility. It means more responsibility. If economically our citizens are to be no longer cheap they must be no longer without responsibilities."

Whether we seize the opportunity to lead in a great advance depends solely on ourselves. We have the power, the power, the material force. The only question concerns our moral force. What leadership shall we follow? We have come through adversity. Can we be properly satisfied?"

BLACK CRIME TO DEFEAT TREATY, KEYNOTER SAYS

Democrats Praised and G. O. P. Denounced in Opening of S. F. Convention

"SMELLING COMMITTEE" SCORED BY CUMMINGS
Chicago Meeting Not a Convention But an Auction, Speaker Declares

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—The league of nations covenant was championed as the "Monroe Doctrine of the world" by Homer Cummings, temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention, in his keynote address here today.

"The peace treaty is a defeat in the senate," he said. "No blacker crime against civilization has ever been committed than the rejection of the conditions which it criticizes and denounces."

"The oppressed peoples of the earth will look to it in vain. It contains no message of hope for Ireland, no word of mercy for Armenia, and it conceals a sword for Mexico. It is the work of men concerned more with material things than with human rights. It contains no thought, no purpose, no vision, no ideal, no hope to make the world a safer and happier place for the average man."

He declared that the peace time record of the Democratic party from March 1912, to the outbreak of the world war has to its credit "more effective, constructive and remedial legislation than the Republican party had placed upon the statute books in a generation."

Praising the administration's course in the war he said, "We fought a great war for a great cause and we have a leadership that carried America to greater heights of honor and power and glory than she has ever known before in her entire history."

"But if America is to lead, her people must be true to her ideals."

"Whether we seize the opportunity to lead in a great advance depends solely on ourselves. We have the power, the power, the material force. The only question concerns our moral force. What leadership shall we follow? We have come through adversity. Can we be properly satisfied?"

Referring to congressional investigations he said that over 50 investigations have been made, over two million dollars wasted and "the result has been to prove that it was the cleanest war ever fought in the history of civilization."

"The Republican party became so fixed in its inviolable habit of conducting investigations that it finally turned to the fruitless task of investigating itself. They discovered fraud and graft and greed and inexcusable extravagance. The revelations disclose the fact that the meeting at Chicago was not a convention, but an auction. The highest bidder, however, did not get the prize. The publicity which overtook the proceedings frustrated the initial purpose. The Chicago convention left the Democratic party as the custodian of the honor of the country."

Tells of Wilson Stand
It is not reservations that the president stands against, said Mr. Cummings, but nullification. He told how President Wilson had published the tentative text of the league covenant widely in 1919, asking for criticism and receiving suggestions from Taft, Hughes and others that were "actually incorporated into the revised draft of the league."

Senator Lodge, he said, refused to offer constructive amendments at any time. "So intolerant was his attitude that he would not even consider a compromise proposed by former President Taft of his own party and which was assured of support of 40 Democratic senators. Senator Lodge knew that he controlled the senate and that in his own time and way he would destroy the treaty."

"This is the sordid story of its defeat," said Cummings, after reviewing the senate's action in the matter. "No blacker crime against civilization has ever soiled the pages of our history. The last chapter was written at Chicago."

Let the true purpose of our party be clearly understood," he said in concluding his address. "We stand squarely for the same ideals of peace and progress by which it is whittled down to the vanishing point. We decline to compromise our principles or pawn our principles for peace and justice."

WILSON PICTURE AROUSES CROWD TO WILD SCENE

Fight on Prohibition, Treaty and Irish Laid Aside But Not Forgotten

COX DIVORCE USED AS POLITICAL MISSILE
Report Circulated Bryan Treaty Plank Is Acceptable to Administration Leaders

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Opposing forces in the Democratic national convention declared a brief truce today while they assembled in the opening session to perfect preliminaries for the week's work.

The big fight over prohibition and the lesser fights over the league of nations and the Irish question were laid aside, but not forgotten while the party chiefs and delegates met in the auditorium to hear National Chairman Cummings sound the keynote.

Issues rather than candidates continue to be foremost, but the announcement that William G. McAdoo would not reject the nomination put new life into his supporters and today they began where they left off last night perfecting an active organization.

Little Change in Lineup
Little change was apparent in the lineup of strength between the Cox and Palmer forces and the chiefs of each were working to make the best possible showing on the early ballots. There was talk of a combination ticket between the two but it was in the realm of gossip.

The attitude of the Cox managers toward publication here on the eve of the convention of the governor's divorce ten years ago was to ignore it entirely.

Edmund H. Moore, manager of the Cox candidacy, said he had no statement to make and refused inquiries to "anybody from Dayton." Governor Cox's home town, to learn what Ohio people most familiar with the circumstances thought.

Divorce Stirs Managers
Cox delegates pointed out that in a long and active political career against union opposition the divorce case had never been brought into a campaign.

Ohio leaders insisted that the published story was an attempt to play on any sentiment against divorce that might exist among women delegates. The Cox people today were conducting an investigation to develop who brought out the story at this time and to make it their own.

Assurances of election of Senator Robinson as permanent chairman was indicated today when W. J. Bryan met at his hotel and there were congratulations, stating that he was glad the Arkansas senator's choice was "to be unanimous."

Scene at Convention
AUGUST 10, 1920. SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Thirty minutes before the hour set for the opening of the convention the brass band beside the organ loft was playing popular airs and the delegates were beginning to trail into the hall. The stand about in groups discussing candidates and issues. None of the convention officials had arrived at that hour and the expectation was that as the case with all conventions it probably would be late in starting. A supply of California redwood gables made from the celebrated birds of the redwood trees were brought to the platform ready for use. Official photographers and movie men were busy looking for novel angles. The delegates were composed a great part of the spectators in the visitors galleries. The song leaders also were on the job early and had begun singing. The song leaders also were on the job early and had begun singing. The song leaders also were on the job early and had begun singing.

Completely refitted for the convention, the great auditorium presented a fine picture of neatness and polished unusual in convention halls.

The big dome which hitherto had been a handicap to acoustics was cut off with a new false ceiling of drab colored canvas decorated in black and white figures like an overgrown fancy paragon.

The seats and gallery floors also were draped and there were enough flags and bunting to complete the harmony of the scene without a touch of gaudiness.

It looked much different than when President Wilson made his speech here in September for the league of nations. On that occasion there was nothing but confusion, the acoustics went to pieces and only a few of the many thousands who came in could hear the president's words. Besides the false ceiling, a system of telephonic megaphones was in place to carry out the voices of the speakers.

Organ in Background
The monster pipe organ, which formed the background of the whole platform, added another softening touch.
